

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE DAY IN WORLD OF SPORTS

EASY MARKS TODAY FOR BIG COLLEGES

Swarthmore and Columbia Only Good Games.

HARVARD TO USE TRICKS

Will Probably Try Fake Kicks on Bates. Yale Depends on Line-men.

All of the big Eastern eleven have exceptionally easy games on for today except Columbia, which will meet the strong Swarthmore eleven at New York. Swarthmore has an exceptionally strong team this season and experts look for less than twelve points to separate the teams.

Yale, Harvard and Princeton have games with teams that can hardly give them good practice. In Springfield, Y. M. C. A. Bates, and Lafayette, respectively, they will meet the weakest opponents they will line up against for the remainder of the season.

Harvard is expected to work in a lot of fake kicks, using Quarterback Steve Noyes to run with the ball. While at practice against the scrubs yesterday, Noyes successfully pulled off the trick four times, gaining from ten to forty yards at each attempt.

Yale Depends on Line.

Yale, as usual, will depend considerably upon the work of her big linemen in offensive play. The guards will be worked equally as much as the tackles, as in Trip, the coaches have developed a ground game the equal of either Hogan, Kinney, or Bloomer. His work against the scrubs yesterday is said to have been the best offense playing seen on Yale field this year.

Princeton took things easy yesterday in preparation for the game with Lafayette today. The Tigers will depend a lot on kicking. McCormick, the former Exeter High School fullback, will do the punting.

The Schedule.

The schedule for today follows: Harvard and Bates, at Cambridge. Princeton and Lafayette, at Princeton. Yale and Springfield, at New Haven. Columbia and Swarthmore, at New York. Pennsylvania and Gettysburg, at Philadelphia. Michigan and Physicians and Surgeons, at Ann Arbor. Wesleyan and Brown, at Providence.

GEORGETOWN WEAK FROM INJURIES

Many Substitutes in Varsity Team. Two New Men Show Up. McGuire Out Again.

The practice of the Georgetown team yesterday was disappointing.

Weakened by the substitution of Covert and Sutton at ends, Kelly at center, and McLaughlin at left halfback, the varsity was able to make but two touchdowns during the half-hour scrimmage. The scrub line from tackle to tackle was the strongest of the year. Only once was the university eleven able to make five yards at a plunge, and that was when Martell broke through the right side of the scrubs for eight yards.

Two New Men.

Two new men reported. McGovern, a line man from the Denver Academy, was put in at left guard, while Hicks, from Santa Clara School, California, was worked at left end on the second eleven. McGuire, last fall's substitute center, was in the line-up for the first time.

Coach Kelly has decided to make a guard out of the 250-pounder, so yesterday he was pitted against big Orme, and made a favorable impression for his size in the position. McCarthy and the regular ends, were out in togs, as both are suffering from weak knees, neither was allowed to get into the scrimmage.

NEURO PUGILIST WANTS TO BE MAYOR OF MALDEN

MALDEN, Mass., Oct. 12.—Joe Walcott, the negro pugilist, last night announced his candidacy for the mayoralty of this city. He will run on what he calls the Walcott ticket, and says he is sure of 300 votes, for all the negro votes of Malden will be his. He says many white men also will give him their votes.

Walcott expects the sporting fraternity of Malden to contribute campaign funds in return for the excellent sport he has provided them in the past. Walcott gained notoriety a year ago by buying a house here, close to that of E. S. Converse, the wealthiest man in town.

METROPOLITAN GOT TWO.

In the Bank Clerks' League last night the Metropolitan won the first and second games of the set bowled against the Washington Loan and Trust Company. The scores:

Washington Loan and Trust—Doyle, 156, 144, 145; Taylor, 138, 146, 109; Claxton, 112, 102, 105; 157, 147, 104. Totals, 744. Metropolitan bowled last game, 157, 147, 104. Totals, 744. Metropolitan bowled last game, 157, 147, 104. Totals, 744.

INTERIORS WON ALL.

Interiors bowlers won the full set from the Commercial and Labor team in the National League last night, on the 2nd floor, Capital Bunn had two scores exceeding 200. The scores:

Interior—Livingston, 171, 161, 183; Cooper, 191, 156, 161; Riffe, 188, 166, 155; Lemmon, 146, 161, 154; Bunn, 202, 202, 144. Totals, 889, 828.

BLUE AND GRAY END

HARRY LUX.

He Is Out of the Game Because of Strained Muscles, But Will Be Back in a Few Days.

UMPIRE QUESTION CAUSES TROUBLE

Yale and Princeton Seek Football Official.

Tigers Do Not Want Him, But Suggest Minds, on Whom Yale Kicks.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 12.—Yale and Princeton are at odds over the selection of officials for the Yale-Princeton football game at Princeton, November 12. Yale officers of the football association went to New York today to meet the Princeton men and try to straighten out the difficulty.

Yale is eager to have Paul A. Dashiell, a leading authority on the game, to act as umpire, but Princeton objects to him. Kick on Minds.

The Tigers wish John Minds, of the University of Pennsylvania, Yale thinks that Minds gave many erroneous decisions in the game last year, notably when the ball was stolen from Jim Hogan, of Yale, at the Princeton five-yard line, and Minds gave it to Princeton. Princeton has recommended Wrenn, the former Harvard player, but the fact that Yale plays Harvard the following week causes Yale to fear the result of the Princeton game.

A fifth man talked of is Charles Young, the former Cornell captain.

TECHNICAL HIGH PLAYS PREP SCHOOL TODAY

Technical High School will open its football season this afternoon on Georgetown Field, in a game with the Georgetown Preparatory School eleven, at 3 o'clock.

The result of this game will give an inkling of the relative strength of the Technical and Central teams, which will probably fight it out for the high school championship. Central defeated the Blue and Gray boys last week by 11 to 0, finding it easy to gain through the weak line.

GEORGETOWN GAME TODAY HAS BEEN CALLED OFF

Because of the disbandment of the Baltimore Medical College football team there will be no game between that eleven and Georgetown, which was scheduled to take place on Georgetown Field at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Georgetown's next game will be with Villanova, on Saturday.

BOSTON WAS EASY.

Boston was easy for Washington in the Plate Printers' League last night, the latter winning all three games. The scores:

Washington—Farrell, 130, 152, 152; Donohue, 129, 129, 150; Morrison, 136, 128, 110; Elam, 142, 127, 111; Johnson, 158, 126, 173; Totals, 705, 758, 896.

Boston—Eckloff, 158, 138, 178; G. 141, 151; Hunt, 122, 132, 133; 128, 132; C. Bright, 169, 138, 128, 138; Totals, 736, 729, 741. *Poole bowled last game.

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 12.—Both rivers are clear at this point.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS BARRED FROM TEAM

Randolph - Macon Eleven Loses Three Stars.

Virginia, Virginia Military, Virginia Polytechnic, and Richmond College Apt to Suffer.

ASHLAND, Va., Oct. 12.—The recent action of the Virginia Intercollegiate League in debarring three members of the team has practically ruined Randolph-Macon's chances for the league pennant.

Mills, Cross, and Trevillion were the life of the whole eleven, and with them out the team is but a shadow of its former strength.

Others May Suffer.

The ruling under which the three Randolph-Macon stars were disqualified requires that no college athlete can play on a town ball team unless he has been a resident of the town for at least one year. The local institution was the only one in the state to suffer by the board's action, but at the next meeting in February it is expected that a large proportion of the University of Virginia, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Richmond College, and Virginia Military Institute athletes will be put under the ban for violating the "summer ball" rule of the league.

Under Coach Cox.

Randolph-Macon's biggest game is with Richmond College, but the chances for a victory are very slim. Since the defeat at the hands of George Washington University, Coach Charles Cox, formerly of Georgetown, has completely reorganized his team in the hope that he can effect a strong combination which can put up a creditable game despite the absence of Cross, Mills, and Trevillion. Assistant Coach Devlin, of Georgetown, has returned to Washington, so the whole development is now in the hands of Coach Cox.

STILL MORE COACHES FOR MOODY ELEVEN

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—The athletic authorities of the Naval Academy are arranging for ordering here of several additional young officers, crack players on former Naval Academy teams.

Head Coach Paul J. Dashiell, is being assisted at present by Olcott, of Yale, and Lieutenants Tardy, Bookwalter and McCarthy.

The others expected shortly are Lieut. Byron A. Long, one of the best ends and quaters the navy ever had; Roger Williams, tackle of the 1900 and 1901 teams, and Passed Midshipman Halsey, fullback for the two seasons in 1902-1903.

MANY PLAYERS DEFAULT IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Four of the seven matches to have been played in the annual fall club tennis tournament of the Bachelors' Club yesterday were defaulted because of the inability of players to get away from business. The results were as follows:

Fleming Newbold (7) vs. W. P. Hall (10), Hall winning by default.

J. P. Story Jr. (9) vs. R. S. Hume (8), Hume winning by default.

W. B. Wood (8) vs. J. F. Hendrick, M. O. Eldridge (9) vs. W. P. Metcalf (4), Eldridge winning by default.

W. D. McLean (10) vs. W. P. Hall (10), McLean winning; score, 6-1, 6-2.

R. W. Baker (9) vs. Percy Gassett (12), Baker winning; score, 6-1, 6-2.

W. B. Wood (8) vs. M. O. Eldridge (9), Wood winning; score, 6-0, 6-4.

Peter Felix and Arthur Cripps, the heavyweight champion of South Africa, have been matched to box twenty rounds at the Sydney National Club, in Sydney, Australia.

Greatest Ball Games Played in Past Year

Batting Was Light, But Games Were Close and Interesting—Senators Won Four Extra-Inning Contests.

That the batting this season has been exceptionally light is shown by the records of the American League games.

During the entire season there have been only fifty-one contests in which ten runs or more were scored. Twenty-one runs were the most scored in any one game, New York making that many off Rhoades and Hess, of the Cleveland.

The next largest number was eighteen, scored by Chicago off Donovan and Stovall, of the Detroit.

The Games Close.

The contests, as a rule, were close and there were many hard-fought battles, says the "Philadelphia Record." With the exception of tie games, there were fifty-three contests which went more than the regular nine innings. Twenty-two were ten-inning games, sixteen went to eleven innings, seven to twelve innings, three to thirteen, one to fourteen.

Three to fifteen, while only one went as far as sixteen. That was played by Boston and St. Louis, and was won by the former. The Athletics played ten extra-inning games, and won all but three, the three defeats being with Waddell in the box against Cleveland.

Eighteen tie games were played in the league during the season, Detroit taking part in no less than nine. The tall-end Senators took part in five, three being with the Detroit. The Athletics, St. Louis, and New York had four each, while Cleveland and Boston had three apiece. Chicago had but two.

What Washington Did.

Washington won three and lost three ten-inning games. It won one game of twelve innings and lost games of eleven, twelve and fourteen innings. It also figured in five ties, three of which were with Detroit, Dunkle, Townsend and Hughes were the Washington pitchers who won ten-inning games. Patten lost two of them by himself, and in the third was helped by Wolf.

Jacobson lost the eleven-inning game to New York. Patten lost a twelve-inning contest to Cleveland. Patten and Jacobson lost the fourteen-inning game to St. Louis.

Patten a Help.

It is curious to note that Patten, the strongest and most reliable pitcher in the club, lost three of the extra-inning games, and figured in two others, but he must be remembered that in the other two he went in to help out another pitcher.

He did not win a single one of the long contests. Jacobson, who had the reputation of blowing up and not being able to stand the racing length of time, won from Cleveland in twelve innings.

HERE IS THE COMPLETE RECORD.

Personal Comment on Men and Things in the Field of Sports

Trapezist, which has raced at Benning for two seasons and is owned by Sydney Holliday, won the half-mile running race at the Hagerstown Fair yesterday from a field of eleven starters. The horse will probably be raced over the jumps at Benning.

Julius Pajonech, of Charlottetown, Denmark, bought the following trotters at Lexington yesterday: Jesse Wilton, Cotton Girl, Measles, Harry Westland and Lamp Girl. They will be raced in Denmark.

The hitting power of Terry McGovern, say Philadelphia critics, is sadly on the wane. His old style was to stop men with a single punch once he had them at his mercy, but he probably hit Hanlon forty times in that fourth round on Monday night and yet did not knock him out. Nothing should be taken from McGovern's credit for his out-and-out victory, however, as Hanlon was thoroughly helpless when the bout was stopped by the police.

Matthew Corbett yesterday bought at auction the imported stallion Meddler, of the stud of the late William C. Whitney. The price brought by the great sire was $51,000. The stallion originally cost Mr. Whitney $49,000.

Whitney, 2:09 1/4, and Antezela, 2:10 1/4, will meet at the Belmont track at Narrbeth, near Philadelphia, this afternoon.

Sweet Marie, by McKenny, the biggest trotting money-winner of the season, has captured $22,775. Grace Bond and Alva Axtworthy, the best three-year-olds, 2:17 1/4 and 2:18 1/4 each, Morning Star leads the pacing brigade with $17,100, and John M. is second, with $12,125. Tiverton has passed the $10,000 list with $10,250 to his credit, and Dr. Strong has won $13,850.

Manager Armour, who is to take charge of the Detroit team, will begin his active duties in November, and may make several trades for the purpose of strengthening the club.

While Muggsy McGraw is not the whole cheese now because of his refusal to play the Boston for the world's championship, it must be admitted that he is one of the greatest baseball generals of the day.

Major Delmar and Lou Dillon are to be pitted against each other in Tennessee. Horsemen predict that with favorable weather and track conditions, the world's trotting record of 2:01 1/4, established by Major Delmar only last Saturday, will be broken.

TOM ROLAND.

BROOKLAND BEAT HYATTSVILLE MEN

Line of Losers Was Easily Broken.

FUMBLES KEPT SCORE DOWN

Only One Touchdown Made, But Game Was One-Sided—Winners Were Heavier.

The Brookland football eleven easily defeated the team from Hyattsville yesterday by 5 to 0.

Although the score does not so indicate, the game was one-sided throughout, the Brooklanders outwitting their opponents and outplaying them at every point. Only once were they held for downs, and that time was due to a penalization of five yards on the second down, for an off-side play.

The victorious eleven put up a strong, snappy game and made gains both through the line and around the ends, almost at will. Had it not been for several costly fumbles at critical stages of the game, the score would probably have been much larger.

Bucked Line Well.

The line bucking and long end runs of L. McMahon, who played at left half for the Brooklands, were easily the feature. He several times skirted the ends for substantial gains and plunged through the Hyattsville line as if it were paper.

The only touchdown of the game was made in the last three minutes of play, after a series of straight and cross bucks through the Hyattsville line.

The Brooklands are scheduled to play the Rhode Island Avenue Methodists at 4:3
